Welcome!

We'll get started in a few minutes.

Be sure to type your questions in the chat window during the presentation.
What is Avenue\textsuperscript{E}?

- Avenue\textsuperscript{E} is designed to help community college transfer students smoothly transition to UC Davis, and ultimately, a career in engineering or computer science.
- Avenue\textsuperscript{E} starts at your community college and provides academic and career supports and enrichment opportunities. If you are admitted to UC Davis and are chosen to participate in Avenue\textsuperscript{E}, this support will continue after you transfer to UC Davis.

Program Criteria

Students must be:

- Enrolled at one of our partner community college districts
  - Los Rios
  - Peralta
  - San Joaquin Delta
  - Contra Costa
- Intending to transfer to UC Davis
- Intending to major in Engineering or Computer Science
- Meet and maintain GPA requirements
  - Based on UC Davis TAG guidelines unless stated otherwise
Program Criteria

Students must also possess a demonstrated commitment or potential for leadership to positively impact the elimination of barriers facing women and other members of underrepresented groups in computer science and engineering careers and/or be from families in which neither parent holds a bachelor’s degree.
AvenueE at Community College

- Academic enrichment opportunities such as tutoring, peer mentors, and targeted advising
- Group outings, social activities, speakers, and workshops providing opportunities to engage in peer-to-peer learning, community building, and career exploration
  - Industry tours, summer internships, mentorship, and research experiences
- Guidance with the UC Transfer Admission Planner and the Transfer Admission Guarantee (TAG) process
- Financial awards may be available to those who qualify – up to $1,000 in your last year at Community College pending fund availability
- Two different intensive summer programs will take place prior to the start of the UC Davis academic year

Aggie Transfer Scholars Weekend

Objectives:
1. Intensive transfer preparation for meeting admission requirements
2. Connection to various campus resources that support student success
3. Experience campus life, what it’s like to be an Aggie

You will receive guidance for submitting a TAG application, and you will continue to engage with AvenueE at your community college.

Dates for 2018: August 9 – 12

Invitations will be sent out next week to those with a completed UC TAP indicating Fall Transfer 2019 and 2020.
